Applying for a Commission

Components of the Application for Commission

You will also need your education number

You are responsible for keeping this information updated with the Secretary of State

Commission Name

Must be your full legal name, including middle(s)

Commission Signature

Can use a middle initial

Commission Address

Can use a PO Box

What is a Notary?

A notary is “a person of proven integrity appointed by the state to act as an impartial witness.”

Responsibilities of your Commission

Perform notarizations correctly

An incorrect notarization could be challenged or declared invalid

Follow statute and rule

Statute and rule take precedence over customer requests and workplace policy

Keep your stamp and journal safe

You could be held liable for fraud committed with your stamp and journal

Responsibilities to the Secretary of State

- Keep all contact information up to date
- Notify us of any changes:
 - Name (within 30 days)
 - Address (within 30 days)
 - Lost or stolen stamp or journal (within 10 days)
 - Resigning your commission
- Forms for information changes, submission of commission payment, and more:

<https://sos.oregon.gov/business/Pages/notary-public-forms.aspx>

Notaries are responsible for understanding laws and administrative rules governing notarization in Oregon

Why is this so important?

- Incorrect notarizations could be contested or declared invalid
- Incorrect notarizations could be refused by a receiving office or agency
- Unhappy customer? You could be sued for misconduct
- Good basic knowledge can keep you from performing notarizations you should refuse
- Correctly performed notarizations will help you meet the standard of reasonable care

Reasonable Care: meeting the standard and protecting yourself

Reasonable care is “That degree of care which a person of ordinary prudence would exercise in the same or similar circumstances”

- Know and obey statute and rules
- Exercise good judgement and common sense
- Maintain your journal as a complete and accurate record of all your notarial activity
- Consider errors and omissions insurance
- Consider taking out a bond

Misconduct

Intentional Misconduct

- is deliberate disobedience of notarial statute or rule.

Unintentional Misconduct

- is the negligent behavior that causes a notary to make an error in a notarization or accidentally forget to do what is required.

Notary Public

- A Notary Public is usually not a lawyer
- An Oregon Notary Public may:
 - Take acknowledgements
 - Administer oaths
 - Witness signatures
 - Certify copies of documents not recordable in public records
 - Verify a signer's willingness and capacity to sign

VS.

Notario Publico

- A Notario Publico must have legal training, but is not necessarily a practicing attorney; rather, they are a public official authorized to provide legal advice and support
- A Notario Publico may:
 - Be an arbitrator
 - Be a mediator
 - Issue judicial opinions
 - Intervene in judicial proceedings
 - Ensure that documents such as bylaws of companies, wills, deeds, powers of attorney, real estate purchase and establishments of trust conform to the law
 - Ensure payment of taxes

Grounds for Revoking your Commission

For more detail see ORS 194.340

- 1 • Commission of a qualifying crime

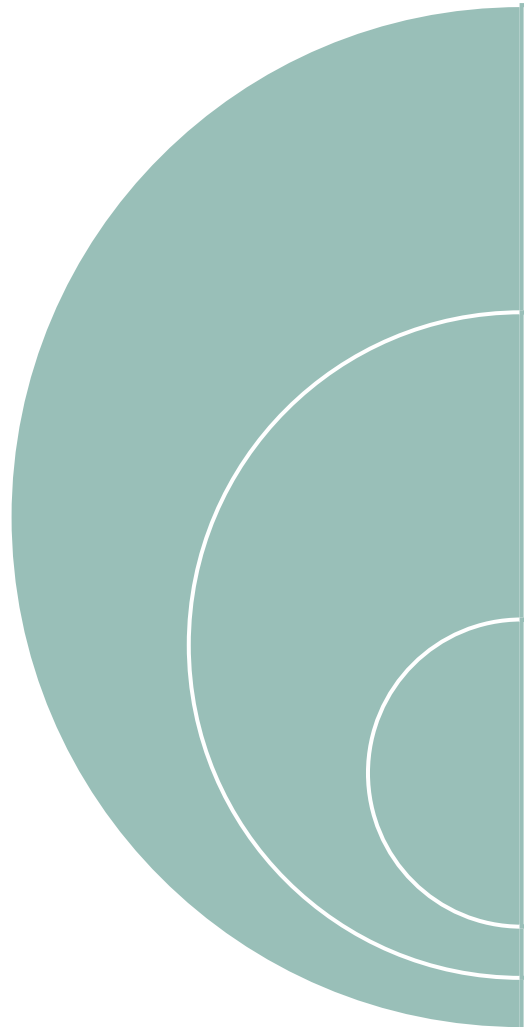

- 2 • Misuse of your powers as a notary

Notarizing in the workplace: policy basics

Workplace policy DOES NOT apply to notarizations performed outside of your workplace

- What times the notary will be available.
- What types of documents.
- What fees, if any, and where posted.
- Responsibility and procedures for renewal.
- Notarization for colleagues on work premises.
- Security & disposition of journal & stamp.
- Any liability coverage under employer's insurance.

<h2>Fees</h2>	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• $10/act• $25/act (RON)• OK to waive*
<h2>Fee information</h2>	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Publicly posted• Available in advance
<h2>Travel fees?</h2>	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Permitted (public, available in advance)• Amount not set by statute

* Fee waiver form available on SOS website:

<https://sos.oregon.gov/business/Pages/notary-information-change.aspx>

Documents that should not be notarized

- Documents without a certificate
 - You may provide an appropriate certificate if the customer can tell you what act is required
 - Never 'notarize' by simply stamping and signing the bottom of any document
- Documents that have a certificate that asks a notary to do something a notary is legally not allowed to do
- I-9 verifications
 - You may verify an employee's identity as required by the form, but these documents do not require notarization
- Public documents

NEVER NOTARIZE BY STAMPING AND SIGNING THE BOTTOM OF A DOCUMENT.
All notarizations MUST include a legitimate certificate.

Apostilles/Authentications

- Certifies the stamp, signature, and status of a public official (the notary)
- Does NOT certify or validate the content of the document getting the apostille
- Used to validate documents that need to be sent overseas
- Only for use on documents that are to be sent overseas
- Not valid for use on documents to be used within the U.S., or U.S. territories or possessions

Documents that cannot be apostilled or authenticated

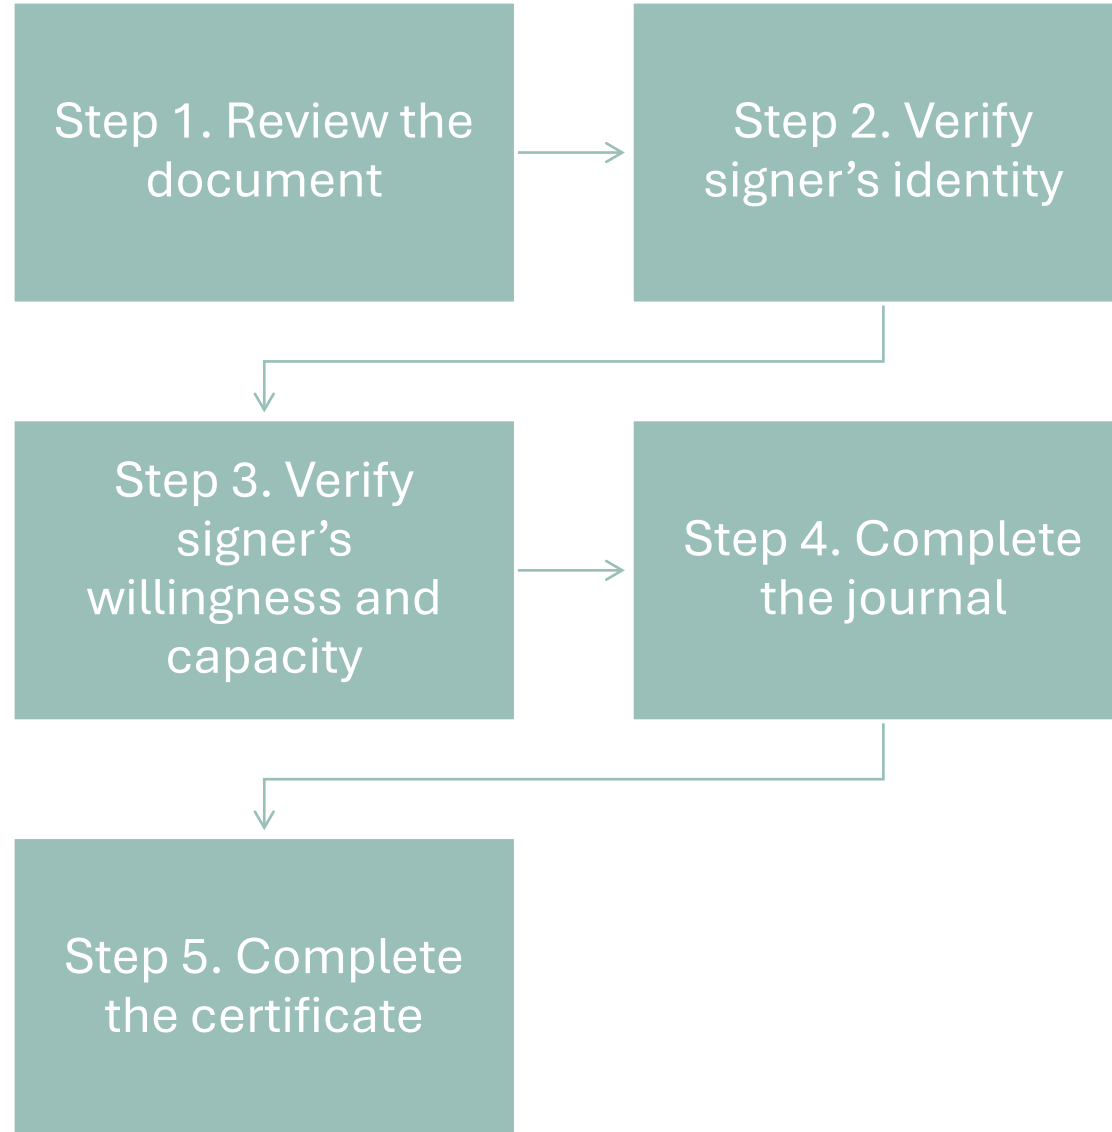

- Photocopies of public documents (must be originals or certified copies)
- Documents that:
 - Contain statements regarding allegiance to a government or jurisdiction;
 - Relate to the relinquishment or renunciation of citizenship, sovereignty, in itinere status or world service authority; or
 - Make a claim of immunity for the signer from the law of this state or from federal law

What if I am asked to notarize a document that I know cannot be apostilled or authenticated?

- You may notarize the document, as long as it has an appropriate certificate that does not ask you to do something a notary is not allowed to do
- You may ask if they intend to request an apostille, and refer them to guidelines on what documents can be apostilled
- You may refuse the notarization, since the document will not be usable for its intended purpose

Use your judgement--and remember that you are not allowed to give legal advice.

How to Properly Complete a Notarization

Step 1. Review the document

Take your time!

- Look at the whole document
 - Make sure you have the complete document
 - Count the pages
 - Staple it together
- Look for journal requirements, review the certificate(s)
- Look for blank spaces
- Verify document and certificates are in a language you read and write
- Unfamiliar language/translated documents?

Step 2. Verify signer's identity

Doubts? Use more than one method of identification

- Personal knowledge
- Credible witness
- Identification documents

Credible Witness

- Witness identifies Signer
- Notary identifies Witness – ID or knowledge
- Witness is credible through Oath

Do you solemnly (swear)(affirm),
under penalties of perjury,
that you personally know this person as _____,
that he/she is the person named in the document, and that you have no financial interest in and are not a party to this transaction
(so help you, God)?

Identification Documents

Can be expired up to 3 years before date of notarization.

Driver License or DMV issued ID Card

- Provisional, Limited Term or Learner's Permit.
- Or Non-expired Temporary Driver License or Temporary ID card – 30 days

U.S. or Foreign Passport

- Passport or Passport Card

U.S. Military ID Card

- Picture & Signature

Federally Recognized Indian Tribe ID Card

U.S. Government-Issued ID

Correctional Facility ID for Inmates

Step 3. Verify Signer's Willingness and Capacity

Why is this so important?

- Signer must understand what they are signing and why for the notarization to be legitimate
- Taking advantage of signers who lack capacity or coercing signers who are unwilling are common aspects of fraud and financial exploitation/abuse
- Fraud and financial exploitation are the fastest growing forms of elder abuse

Financial Exploitation

On the rise and underreported

What is it?

Improper use of another's resources for personal gain

How does it happen?

- Without the victim's knowledge
- Trickery, intimidation, or influence
- Signer's impairment prevents informed consent

What can you do?

- Be on guard in any situation that involves large amounts of goods or money
- Control the situation
- Learn more: : www.oregonbankers.com/pr-eventing-elder-financial-exploitation-toolkit.html
- Report concerns: 1-855-503-SAFE (7233)

Quick Quiz!

1. What form of your name should be used for your commission name?
2. What form of your name should be used for your commission signature?
3. You are required to keep your commission address up to date. Why is this important?
4. Your stamp and journal are lost or stolen. What do you do?
5. You notarize primarily or entirely at work. What happens to your stamp and journal when you leave for a new job?
6. What do I do if I am asked to certify a copy of a birth certificate?
7. Does the notary have to know a credible witness in order to proceed with a notarization where the signer is using a credible witness to verify their identity?

Quiz Answers

1. Your commission name must be your full legal name: first, middle name(s), and last. No initials, first and middle name must be spelled out.
2. Your commission signature may be any form of your name that you like, as long as it verifiable by an ID.
3. If the Secretary of State cannot contact when we need to with a question about a notarization you have performed, you could end up having your commission or even revoked for not responding.
4. If your stamp or journal is lost or stolen, it must be reported to the Secretary of State within ten days.
5. You must take your stamp with you. You may leave your journal with your employer if you have signed a journal agreement indicating that this was agreed on. If you do leave your journal behind, photocopy it and bring the copies with you in case you are asked at a later date to provide documentation of a notarization you performed.
6. A birth certificate is a public document, so a notary may not certify a copy. If the customer wants a certified copy, they must request it from the department of Vital Records.
7. The notary does not need to know the credible witness, but the credible witness needs to know the signer.

BREAK!

Step 4. Complete Journal

General journal requirements

- Must maintain at least one
 - Paper, electronic, or both
- Retention schedule
 - At least 10 years from date of last notarization in journal
- Journal agreement
 - If you change jobs and employer wishes to keep your journal
 - Never leave your stamp with employer
- Disclosure
 - Must be for substantial reason
 - Protect privacy of other customers when sharing information

Step 4. Complete Journal

Specific requirements

- Acts that MUST be recorded in your journal:
 - Witnessing signatures
 - Acknowledgements (individual and representative)
- Acts that SHOULD be recorded in your journal:
 - Administering oaths or affirmations
 - Certifying copies

Remember: your journal protects you best when you record ALL notarizations!

Step 4. Complete Journal

How to fill out a journal entry

Date/Time Of Act	Type of Act	Date of Document	Type of Document	Printed Name Contact Address	Signature	ID	Additional Information	Fee
7/1/16 8:32 a.m.	Individual Ack.	6/15/15	Grant deed	Jim Garner 111 Main St. Salem, OR 97301	J. Garner	ODL; 8/21/25	32 pages; previously signed	$10

- To comply with Oregon Consumer ID Theft Protection Act, record type of ID and expiration date only.
- Take the room you need to adequately document the act.
- Record all fees as well as when you waive fees: fees may be taxable income.
- No thumbprint provision in Oregon.
- Do not collect information that is not required in Oregon; this can be understood as invasion of privacy

Journal: Credible Witness

Date/Time of Act	Type of Act	Doc. Date	Doc. Type	Printed Name Contact Address	Signature	ID	Additional Info	Fee
01/16/2017 10:30 a.m.	Oath	N/A	N/A	Marla May 2468 Neighborly Ln Yourtown, OR 97888	Marla May	ODL 5/21/2023	Credible Witness for John Jones	$0

Step 5. Complete Certificate

Six components for each certificate: all there, every time

- Location/venue (state and county)
- Language indicating notarial act required
- Blank for name of signer
- Blank for date of notarization
- Added by notary:
 - Notary Stamp
 - Must be legible and reproducible
 - Notary Signature
 - Must match commission signature on file with SOS in both format and general appearance

Quick Quiz!

1. What should the notary do if they are not sure the signer is signing of their own free will?
2. Is a hole-punched drivers' license an acceptable form of ID?
3. What are the six required components of a certificate?
4. What are the notarial acts allowed in Oregon?
5. What do I do if the signer brings in a document that has no certificate?
6. What acts are required to be recorded?
7. Why is it a good idea to record everything?

Quick Quiz Answers

1. The notary should speak to the signer alone to ask if they are willing to sign. If they are not willing or not sure, the notary must stop the notarization.
2. No. Typically a hole is punched in an ID to indicate it is no longer valid.
3. The required components are: the state and county where the notarization is being performed, the date of the notarization, the name of the signer, language indicating the notarial act required, and the stamp and signature of the notary.
4. The acts allowed are: witnessing a signature, witnessing a signature acknowledgement, administering an oath(verbal or jurat), and certifying a copy.
5. If your signer does not have a certificate, you may add a certificate as long as the customer can tell you what act is required.
6. Notaries are required by statute to record witnessing signatures and witnessing signature acknowledgements in their journal. They are not required to record administering oaths or certifying copies.
7. It is a good idea to record everything so that you will always be able to produce the record of a specific notarization if you are asked to do so. Your journal can protect you and your customers best when it is a complete and accurate record of all of your notarial activities.

The Notarization Process

When the certificate is provided for the notary

- Read the certificate carefully as part of step 1 of the notarization
- Remember to make your journal a complete record of the transaction
- Make sure the certificate is complete, and that you have made any corrections necessary to make it true

The Notarization Process

When no certificate is provided

- How can you tell what act is required?
 - Ask the customer
 - If necessary, provide a list of acts for them to choose (DO NOT choose for them, that is giving legal advice)
 - If they can't choose, send them back to consult with document creator or attorney
- When customer provides the type of act, you can provide the appropriate certificate
- Add certificate directly to document if possible
- Attach a 'loose certificate' if you can't add certificate directly to the document
