

Initiative, Referendum and Recall

In 1902, Oregon voters approved a legislatively referred ballot measure creating Oregon’s initiative and referendum process. Two years later voters enacted the direct primary and in 1908, Oregonians amended our Constitution to allow for recall of public officials.

This “Oregon System” empowers the people to propose new laws or change Oregon’s Constitution through a general election ballot measure.

Initiative: Petition process allowing registered voters to propose amendments to the Oregon Constitution or changes to the Oregon Revised Statutes (ORS).

Referendum: Petition process allowing registered voters to adopt or reject any nonemergency Act or portion of a nonemergency Act passed by the Legislature.

Referral: Process allowing the Legislature to place on the ballot any bill they pass for voters’ approval. Any amendment to the Oregon Constitution proposed by the Legislature must be placed on the ballot for voters to approve or reject.

Since 1902, the people have passed 132 of the 377 initiative measures placed on the ballot and 24 of the 66 referenda on the ballot. During the same period, the Legislature has referred 436 measures to the people, of which 255 have passed.

Both houses of the Legislature must vote to refer a statute or constitutional amendment for popular vote. Such referrals cannot be vetoed by the governor.

To place an initiative or referendum on the ballot, supporters must obtain a specified number of signatures from registered voters. The number required is determined by a fixed percentage of the votes cast for all candidates for governor at the last general election where the governor was elected to a full term. In the 2022 General Election, 1,952,833 votes were cast for governor. Referendum petitions require 4 percent; therefore 78,116 signatures are required. Initiative petitions for statutory enactments require 6 percent, or 117,173 signatures; and initiative petitions for constitutional amendments require 8 percent, or 156,231 signatures.

The original constitutional amendment, passed in 1902, provided that a fixed percentage of the votes cast for justice of the Supreme Court would determine the number of signatures required to place an initiative or referendum on the ballot. Both a statutory enactment and a constitutional amendment required 8 percent of the votes cast, while a referendum required 5 percent of the votes cast. In 1954, the people amended the Oregon Constitution to increase the required number of signatures to 10 percent for a constitutional amendment. In 1968, a vote of the people established the current requirements.

Prior to 1954, measures on the ballot were not numbered. They are listed below in order of appearance on the ballot. The 2001 Legislature amended state law to require that ballot measure numbers not repeat in any subsequent election. Numbers assigned for each election begin with the next number after the last number assigned in the previous election.
